Issues a Statement

We've been having a lot to say about the U.S. Postal Service since it began operating as an autonomous government corporation.

Our hottest remarks were provoked by the collapse of local delivery of second class mail—our newspaper, that is—after the new organization moved our sorting section from Hope Post Office to the Oaklawn Post Office on the Texas side of Texarkana on May 6, 1972.

But we have had no complaints recently, therefore we presume The Star is being delivered throughout our trade area the morning after publication.

Since this column presented the irate views of the editor and an avalanche of angry subscribers' letters it is only fair that we now present the U.S. Postal Service's claim that after a year's experience the new organization is doing a good job.

The following is a postal service statement released from the Southern Region office at Memphis:

Post offices in the 11-state Southern Postal Region have established a better than 95 per cent performance record in the next-day delivery of airmail to designated cities within 600 miles of the originating post office.

Carl C. Ulsaker, Southern Regional Postmaster General, said the airmail performance record in the Southern Region for the week ending August 4 was 95.5 per cent. The national average was 94.9 per cent.

Ulsaker said the U.S. Postal Service established last September a national service standard goal that would guarantee 95 per cent efficiency in next-day delivery of ZIP Coded airmail to designated cities within 600-mile radius of the originating city. To achieve the goal, letters must be deposited by 4 p.m. weekdays in blue and white "airmail only" letter boxes.

The airmail goal assures a minimum of second-day delivery to all major cities within the continental United States.

The Southern Region is divided into 18 districts, 13 of which reached the 95 per cent airmail delivery goal last week.

The Atlanta District is first in the Southern Region with a 97.4 per cent performance. The Shreveport District has met the 95 per cent goal for 21 consecutive weeks.

Looking at individual cities within the district organization, San Angelo, Tex., topped the 95 per cent goal for 24 consecutive weeks, and Greenville, Miss. went beyond the national goal by reaching a 100 per cent performance for 21 weeks out of a 46-week testing period.

District performance records for airmail delivery for the five-day week ending August 4 are: Amarillo, Tex., 94.3 per cent; Atlanta, Ga., 97.4 per cent; Birmingham, Ala., 95.0 per cent; Columbia, S.C., 96.9 per cent; Dallas, Tex., 94.1 per cent; Greensboro, N.C., 96.1 per cent; Houston, Tex., 96.2 per cent; Jackson, Miss., 96.4 per cent; Little Rock, Ark., 96.1 per cent; Memphis, Tenn., 95.6 per cent; Miami, Fla., 93.6 per cent; Nashville, Tenn., 95.0 per cent; New Orleans, La., 95.0 per cent; Oklahoma City, Okla., 94.0 per cent; San Antonio, Tex., 96.8 per cent; Shreveport, La., 95.6 per cent; Tampa, Fla., 96.6 per cent; and Waco, Tex., 94.7 per cent.

Keynote of 'high-road' GOP campaign is sounded

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew have sounded the keynote of a high-road campaign.

The political slugging may come later. But a GOP ticket favored by landslide margins in the polls appears likely to concentrate on boasting of its own record and prospects.

That formula leaves room for slaps at Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern. But it puts the emphasis where Nixon clearly wants it, on a Republican position he described as reflecting "the great principles we Americans believe in together."

As the President and the vice president formally opened their campaign before the Republican National Convention Wednesday night, they had an ample dose of criticism for McGovern — but it wasn't like the old days.

And it was Nixon who sounded the offensive against the Democrat from South Dakota.

The toughest line of the night was his: "Let us reject the policies of those who whine and whimper about our frustrations and call on us to turn inward."

That bit of alliteration could have come from a vintage Agnew speech.

For his part, Agnew challenged the piecemeal, inconsistent and illusory policies of George McGovern, and let it go at that.

He cast himself as "the President's man," and he spoke of unity: "For this administration there is only one America."

It was the speech of a new Agnew, a man who refrained from so much as a mention of the vandalizing protesters who roamed Miami Beach as the convention met.

In another day, they would have stirred scornful Agnew oratory. And in another campaign, McGovern would have been one of Agnew's "radical liberals."

Traditionally, and particularly in the Nixon-Agnew game plan of the congressional campaign two years ago, the vice president has done the heavy partisan hitting, while the President adopts a loftier political posture.

But in the 1972 Republican strategy, both candidates may be cast in the latter role.

Nixon's acceptance-speech slaps at the proposals of McGovern — whom he never mentioned by name — and seemed designed to give him the advantage of the offense even as he defended and advertised his performance and proposals.

Two speeches, of course, don't make a campaign. But the evidence points to more of what Nixon and Agnew offered the convention.

The Republicans have a lead to preserve, not an obstacle to overcome. That position weighs against a strategy that would produce a running, long-distance debate with McGovern.

Of course, if the poll ratings change sharply, Republican tactics are likely to change, too.

But with McGovern the underdog, said Sen. Robert J. Dole, the Republican national chairman, the President should not carry the political attack during the campaign ahead.

"There might be some reaction against us as the big and powerful," he said.

Furthermore, a major theme of the Republican convention — a political exercise designed by and for Nixon — was the recruitment of disenchanted Democrats.

That end would not be served by a hard-line campaign.

And so, at that most partisan of American gatherings, a national political convention, Nixon talked past the delegates to the television audience, "not as a partisan of party, which would automatically divide us, but as a partisan of principles which can unite us."

Critics gambling with world peace: Nixon

CHICAGO (AP) — In the first appearance of his campaign for a second White House term, President Nixon today pictured critics of his defense spending plans as gambling with world peace.

Nixon, in a speech prepared for the annual American Legion Convention, made no direct mention of his Democratic opponent, Sen. George McGovern, who spoke from the same platform Wednesday. However, the President cited military programs that McGovern would curb or scrap and described defense policy as "one of the major issues of this election year."

He said that if some of these economies were adopted "America would become the second-strongest power in the world."

He said: "We have economized and will continue to economize on military spending whenever and wherever it is safe to do so. But I never have gambled — and I never will gamble — with the safety of the American people under a false banner of economy. Lasting peace is built only on strength."

For Nixon, it was the first stop on a cross-country tour taking him into Illinois, Michigan and California on the day after accepting the Republican nomination for another four years in the presidency.

The President told jubilantly cheering Republicans at the closing session of their national convention Wednesday night that he seeks "a new American

Random violence ends in arrests at Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Most of the more than 1,000 demonstrators arrested Wednesday night after being outwitted in attempts to disrupt the finale of the Republican National Convention were released from jail today after posting nominal bonds.

Lt. William Armstrong, an official at the Dade County Jail in Miami, estimated that the number arrested, in random street violence that spawned ranks of charging police, "went over 1,000" shortly after midnight and that "a few stragglers were still being booked" this morning.

Officials said 10 judges holding all-night special sessions had set bonds in most cases ranging from $3 to $40. They said bond hearings would continue this morning and be followed by individual trials.

After their release, the demonstrators traveled back across Biscayne Bay to Miami Beach where they began folding their tents and moving out of their Flamingo Park campsite.

As President Nixon spoke inside the packed Convention Hall Wednesday night, Secret Service agents hovered at the gates outside cradling axe handles. Just blocks away, riot-ready state troopers contained roving bands of protesters.

When the gavel finally fell at 11:17 p.m. and the delegates spilled from the littered hall out into the humid night, many wept from the lingering aftermath of tear gas. Rubbing red eyes, the hundreds whose ears were still ringing from the ovals for Nixon beheld streets swept empty of all but an 800-yard cordon of police. The officers stood quietly, 10 feet apart, wary of interlopers.

Protesters had tried to block the delegates from entering the hall five hours earlier. The plan called for peaceful sit-ins at the gates and milling crowds in the surrounding streets.

But when the demonstrators arrived, they found their path cluttered by bumper-to-bumper buses. The buses, some so old they had to be towed into place, hugged the gates and created a dilapidated corridor for other vehicles carrying delegates into the Convention Hall compound. "We were defeated tactically before we even began," said Marsha Monastersky, a member of the Students for a Democratic Society.

Delegate calls Agnew 'racist bigot'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A black delegate from Arkansas called Vice President Spiro T. Agnew a "racist bigot" and did not vote for Agnew's renomination at the Republican National Convention here Wednesday night.

The delegate is Odis H. Richmond of Pine Bluff, a candidate for the state House of Representatives. Richmond did vote for the renomination of President Richard M. Nixon.

Biggest to date

O. F. Lloyd of Hope peeks from behind a monster watermelon he raised in his garden. The melon, which weighed 139½ pounds, is the largest weighed in at the local Chamber of Commerce to date. He also brought in a second melon that topped 120 pounds. Lloyd, a jeweler, said he is a "farmer by heart," and also said, "This isn't bad for a beginner." The melon is on display at Becherer's Jewelry Store. Lloyd said he has sold 10 melons ranging in weight from 102 to 124 pounds. —Hope, (Ark.) Star photo by Pod Rogers

Personal touch by president

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon added a surprise personal touch to his convention-capping speech Wednesday night by staying on for more than an hour to bask in the glow of victory and shake hands with hundreds of jubilant delegates.

Despite sporadic violence nearby, both the President and his wife and Vice President and Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew lingered past midnight in the hall, itself an island of festivity.

The delegates and guests roared their approval when Chairman Gerald Ford announced at the formal close of this 30th quadrennial gathering of the party that "The President would like to meet as many of you as he can." But no one dreamed he would stay so long, much to the anxiety of scores of security agents and the near exhaustion of Ray Bloch and his band.

President and Mrs. Nixon stood on a specially built ramp wheeled in front of the convention rostrum, while Agnew and his wife Judy greeted well-wishers from the presidential box across the hall.

Nixon gripped so many eager palms that his physician, Dr. Walter Tkach, moaned that he dreads the prospect of examining the presidential right hand today.

Perhaps 200 persons were still waiting in line when the President eventually headed for his helicopter. One woman fainted in the final crush to reach him.

Shriver will visit state on Sept. 8

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sargent Shriver, the Democratic nominee for vice president, will be in Little Rock Sept. 8 for a dinner and reception.

The visit coincides with the Sept. 8-9 Democratic State Convention and the reception will be sponsored by the party's State Committee.

In making the announcement Wednesday, Joe Purcell of Benton, chairman of the state Democratic party, said he hoped that Shriver's wife, Eunice, would accompany the nominee.

Shriver is scheduled to arrive at Little Rock between 5 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. The reception at the Sheraton Hotel was designed to give Arkansas news media a chance to become acquainted with Shriver, Purcell said. The dinner will be at the Arkansas State Fairgrounds.

Purcell said the dinner would be open to the public for the price of a dinner ticket, which he said would be priced to cover the cost of the meal, building rental and other expenses. "It will not be a fund-raising dinner," Purcell said.

Asked why the fund-raising approach was not being taken, he said, "The State Committee is not broke. We're not trying to raise money."

Purcell said Shriver would be the principal speaker at the dinner.

He said he did not know when Shriver would leave the state. He said, though, that if Shriver remained in Arkansas on Sept. 9, the second day of the convention, the vice presidential nominee should be given an opportunity to address the convention.

Shriver, a relative of the Kennedy family, was selected by presidential nominee George S. McGovern of South Dakota after the spot on the ticket was rejected by more than a half-dozen others.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri originally held the spot, but he stepped aside in a controversy that developed when it was revealed he had undergone psychiatric treatment.

Shriver who lives in Maryland, was named director of the Peace Corps when it was formed under President John F. Kennedy and helped establish the Office of Economic Opportunity under President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Stans denies any connection with Demo headquarters break-in case

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Maurice H. Stans, finance chairman for President Nixon's campaign, has denied that he had anything to do with the Democratic headquarters break-in case.

In a brief interview on CBS television Wednesday night, Stans said he was certain he would not be involved in any grand jury indictments in the case but that he "may be a witness against others."

Stans was linked to the June 17 break-in when a $25,000 campaign check given to him by a regional fund-raiser wound up in the bank account of Bernard Barker, one of the five men arrested in the Democratic National Committee offices in Washington.

"I had the check in my hands for about three minutes and passed it on to my treasurer who certainly passed it on elsewhere, and I cannot account for why it went into the Barker bank account," Stans said.

He was referring to Hugh Sloan Jr., who was treasurer for the Finance Committee to Re-Elect the President.

Democrats have been attempting to make the break-in a major campaign issue. But the time involved in legal processes apparently will keep some aspects of the case from being completed until after the Nov. 7 election.

Prices rising

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beef and pork cost more than ever before in July while overall supermarket food prices rose 1.8 per cent, the Agriculture Department said today.

Supermarket prices for the year are running 4.5 per cent more than in 1971, the department said.

Most of the gain was attributed to higher prices paid farmers and mark-ups by retailers. The overall retail-food-price increase was slightly more than the 1.2 per cent reported Tuesday by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The department explained its meat index was for the entire month while BLS covered prices only in the first week of July, meaning prices rose through July.

In all, a "market basket" list of farm-produced food, theoretically enough to feed an average family for an entire year, cost $23 more than in June—a record of $1,322.

Average beef prices for all cuts soared to more than $1.17 per pound in July, compared with $1.13½ in June and the previous record of slightly less than $1.16 last February and March. A year ago beef was about $1.05 per pound.

Pork averaged a record 85.6 cents per pound, compared with 82.0 in June. The previous high was 82.1 cents in January 1970.

The July report showed the price spread for beef rose the most between wholesalers and retailers. Farmers received the same as in June, and wholesalers who sell carcasses beef actually received a little less.

Prices of live beef cattle have dropped from recent high marks and the wholesale beef price also has edged down. Much of that reduction, however, was not included in the July figures.

Farmers got $16 of the market-basket increase mainly because of higher prices for hogs, chickens, eggs and some fresh vegetables. Middlemen who transport, process and sell food accounted for $7 of the rise.

Critics --

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew remained behind in the convention city of Miami Beach, Fla., to answer newsmen's questions before heading to Minneapolis for an address before the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He won the GOP renomination Wednesday night with one dissenting vote and two abstentions and got a boost for the 1976 presidential nomination from Mrs. Nixon.

As the confident Republicans headed home from a convention marked by three days of harmony with barely a discordant note, antiwar protesters also began to leave after failing in their effort to stop the GOP proceedings.

More than 900 demonstrators were arrested Wednesday night, 300 outside the Doral Beach Hotel headquarters of the Committee for the Re-election of the President. Police used a crowd-control gas known as CS to disperse roving bands of protesters who blocked streets, damaged cars, set fires and smashed windows.

Barricades of buses ringed Convention Hall, and some delegates had difficulty getting through.

The tear gas-like fumes had drifted near the hall when helicopters bearing the President's party set down outside. Though moistened towels were handed to some to relieve the discomfort, Nixon and his family walked through the fumes without acknowledging their presence.

Nixon top warmaker, Shriver tells union

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Democratic vice-presidential candidate Sargent Shriver today received the endorsement of a 75,000 member AFL-CIO union and called President Nixon the world's "No. 1 war-maker."

Campaigning through the industrial Northeast, Shriver got the endorsement of the executive board of the International Molders and Allied Workers Union, which said in a resolution that its members are "puzzled" by the decision of AFL-CIO President George Meany to endorse no candidate for president this year.

Then, at a news conference, Shriver made his harshest attack to date on Richard Nixon's record in the White House.

"Last night in his acceptance speech, Richard Nixon talked of a full generation of peace," Shriver said.

"But during the 1,403 days since he was elected, America hasn't had even one day of peace: 20,000 Americans have died — not for a cause, but for a mistake."

"Instead of being a peace-maker," Shriver said, "Nixon stands today as the No. 1 warmaker."

The Democratic candidate also blamed the President for economic policies which he said "have doubled the number of people out of jobs, while inflation continues to cripple family budgets."

And Shriver blasted the administration's record on crime and other issues.

"Richard Nixon proved one thing last night: He is a single super-politician — a man for all seasons, a man with an excuse for every mistake, a different promise for every person."

Shriver also made his sharpest attack on Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, saying he has become "the great divider of the American people," a man whom the President has refused to "muzzle."

Adult education classes being formed here

The Hope School District will offer adult education classes beginning Sept. 11. Classes will be on all grade levels from grades 1 through 12.

There will be no fees or charges for attendance in these classes; any person 18 years old or older may attend. State Department of Education certificates will be given to those who complete the eighth grade level and those who enroll on the high school level may take the GED test and earn a High School Equivalency Diploma.

Evening classes will be held at Red River Vocational-Technical School, Yerger Junior High School, Paisley

Elementary School, Hopewell Elementary School and Fulton School Building. Other classes may be organized in the county if there is a demand for them, a spokesman said.

Classes will meet two nights a week and three hours each night for total of six hours a week.

The 1970 census shows that Hempstead County had 3,420 adults who had not completed the eighth grade and 4,567 adults who were between the ninth and 12th grade level. This gives a total of 8,007 adults in this County who are eligible for this program.

You may enroll now at the office at Red River Vocational-Technical School, or Hope Schools Administrative Office, Second and Walnut Sts., or call 777-5722, 777-2251, and 777-5773 or contact Will V. Rutherford.

Three Americans die in combat in Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese battle deaths in 20 weeks of the current North Vietnamese offensive exceed one-tenth of the acknowledged toll for more than a decade of the Indochina war.

The Saigon command reported Thursday that 617 government troops were killed in action last week and 2,311 were wounded, bringing the 20-week tolls to 15,610 dead and 50,909 wounded.

Authoritative American sources have estimated the actual death toll to be at least 3,000 higher than the official figures. In addition, thousands of civilians have been killed or wounded in fighting since Hanoi's offensive began.

Three Americans were reported killed in action last week, along with 21 wounded, eight missing and 11 dead from nonhostile action, the U.S. Command announced.

It was the lowest American combat death count in eight weeks, but delays in the reporting system prevent the weekly U.S. summary from accurately reflecting any single week's casualties.

The weekly average in the current offensive is more than eight Americans killed in action and more than 26 wounded. The South Vietnamese command claimed 3,050 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed last week and 79 were captured. That brought the claimed enemy death toll to 70,854 in the last 20 weeks.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American — 45,850 killed in action, 1,659 missing or captured, 303,343 wounded in action, 10,264 dead from "nonhostile" causes.

South Vietnamese — 153,423 killed in action, 398,616 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong — 876,530 killed.

ers. Then 100 more. As their ranks swelled, elderly citizens cheered from hotel balconies.

Some demonstrators were hit with clubs and two motorcycle officers were shoved from their machines as the law enforcement officers and protesters clashed amidst the noise of squawking police radios and flying rocks and bottles.

Many demonstrators raced away. But others who had refrained from violence sat in the streets. They waited to be arrested, and they were. Post Alen Ginsberg and Yippee leader Jeff Nighthyd were arrested in one group.

"This city is taking a trash-ing, property is being damaged, people are being injured," said Police Chief Rocky Pomerance. "They talk about peace in Vietnam. It seems obvious they are not for peace in this community."

Authorities marshaled about 2,000 men to handle the police-estimated crowd of 1,500 demonstrators who took to the streets.

About 4,000 demonstrators had been in town for the convention, but all did not participate in the disturbance.

With the convention session starting and most delegates finally inside, protesters regrouped in the streets beside the hall. Tardy delegates were pelted with eggs, sprayed, painted, harangued and jostled.

"I think they should issue every delegate and alternate and everybody else who wants one a submachine gun," fumed Leroy Stocks, a delegate from Whiteville, N.C.

What's cooking for Sunday night's supper?

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

To stretch a pound of ground beef to serve six, use it in a Florentine Meat Pie. The pie, along with a salad, will make a good main course for Sunday night supper.

To make the pie filling savory, spinach, tomato paste and oregano are added. We think you'll like this combination of flavors as much as did our tasters.

FLORENTINE MEAT PIE
1 pound lean ground beef
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, thawed and drained

1 can (6 ounces) tomato paste
3/4 cup finely crushed saltine cracker crumbs
1/4 cup finely grated onion, pulp and juice (1 small onion)
2 large eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon oregano
9-inch unbaked pie shell with high fluted rim
2 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup grated (medium-fine) mild cheddar cheese, not packed down
2 tablespoons sliced pitted ripe olives, for garnish if desired
4 slices bacon, halved crosswise and cooked until crisp, for garnish if desired

In a medium mixing bowl mix together well the beef, spinach, tomato paste, cracker crumbs, onion, 1 egg, salt and oregano. Press firmly into pie shell.

Cover pie shell edge with 2-inch wide strip of foil to prevent excessive browning. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven for 50 minutes. Remove foil strip.

Beat remaining egg slightly and stir in milk and cheese. Pour over top of pie (but not over pastry edge). Spreading evenly. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake until topping sets — 5 to 8 minutes longer. Remove from oven and let stand 10 minutes before cutting. If used, garnish center with olives and bacon.

Makes 6 servings.

Bikini for an Ex-fatty?

Generation Rap:

I've been fat all my life but this summer I'm losing weight and when I reach my goal I want to get a bikini, not a "teeny-weeny" but one that will show everybody what I've done. And that isn't a "two-piece" suit which looks like something your 11-year-old cousin would wear.

Mom says, "No bikini!"

I respect her opinion and we get along great, but I don't think a bikini is "too indecent," especially when I'm so proud of what I've accomplished. No sweat, it won't kill me if I have to stick to a one-piece, but we'd like to know what you think. —FAT BUT NOT FOR LONG
P.S. Here's Mom's letter:

Dear Rap:
I know that life will be great for our daughter. She's a wonderful girl and we're proud of her—and not just because she is losing weight.

I don't blame her for not wanting to wear the one-piece swim suits she has always had to wear as a "fatty." But a bikini? No! A modest two-piece is where I draw the line, and a bikini comes considerably above and below it.

Thanks for your comments even if you don't agree. —MOM
FBNFL And Her Mom:

First, I have to say it (sorry about that, F's Mom): I love bikinis and don't think they're indecent, probably because I've grown up with them.

BUT, FBNFL, any two-piece suit shows leftover flab. Sometimes it takes several months to firm a torso even after you've lost those nasty pounds.

You'll probably look slimmer this year in a well-built one-piece. And by next year maybe your Mom will come around to a modified bikini. —SUE
Dear Fat But Not, Etc.:

Fashion designers say it's a big year for one-piece swim suits, so you won't be out of it, even though your mother vetoes freer styles.

Here's an idea: if you sew (and who doesn't these days?) why not make yourself an inexpensive cotton bikini for sun bathing? Your folks will soon become accustomed. (Just as Sue's folks did!) —HELEN

Dear Mother Of FBNFL:

Times change, and so do styles in modesty.

Back in the 1900s a lady's leg was a limb, and if she showed her calf, she was a "brazen hussy." In the 1970s, bikinis seldom draw second glances, unless worn in supermarkets. Since they're so commonplace that they neither shock, repel nor titillate the average viewer, how can they be called indecent? I think they look great, on the right shape. Hope you will, too—next year. —HELEN Rap:

My girlfriend is a "natural" nut. She only eats natural foods, which is fine, but she also won't wear deodorants or perfume because she says this is "camouflage" and you should function the way nature intended. Naturally, she doesn't use depilatories either. Or deodorant soap.

She's a great person but I'd rather not get too close to her. How can I "de-naturalize" her a little? —DOWNWIND

Dear D:

Tell her if she really insists on functioning the way nature intended, then she'd better throw away all her clothes, go out and sleep on a riverbank, and trap her own food and winter furs. —HELEN

D: ...And if she takes you up on it, well there goes a beautiful (but distant) friendship! —SUE

Request for new trial for Bremer is refused

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — Judge Ralph Powers of Prince Georges County Circuit Court today rejected a request for a new trial for Arthur H. Bremer, convicted last month of the attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and the shooting of three other persons.

Benjamin Lipsitz, Bremer's attorney, based the request for a new trial on grounds that at least one juror previously saw television news film of the shooting.

Lipsitz said he wants to appeal the conviction but must first raise the $2,000 necessary to purchase a transcript of the trial.

Bremer has been moved to the diagnostic and reception wing of the state penitentiary in Baltimore.

He was convicted in Georges

County Circuit Court Aug. 4 and sentenced to a 63-year term for the assault of Wallace

HANDWRITING EXPERT EXAMINES SIGNATURES

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Earl Davenport, a handwriting expert from Memphis, began analyzing signatures Wednesday on petitions seeking to qualify the American Party in Arkansas for the general election ballot.

Davenport was hired by The Election Laws Institute, which has questioned the validity of some 10,000 signatures on petitions submitted by the party to regain its legal status.

Thomas A. Glaze of North Little Rock, chairman of TEL, has said it appeared that at least 10,000 of the signatures were not valid.

and three other persons.

He probably will serve his sentence at the penitentiary, a corrections system spokesman said.

Bremer still faces federal charges arising from the May 15 shootings in Laurel, Md. Federal officials have not decided when he will be brought to trial.

The 21-year-old Milwaukee, Wis., resident could be transferred to the Patuxent Institute for defective delinquents, said Asst. Atty. Gen. H. Edgar Lentz at the request of the corrections system or attorneys in the case.

Let's Reflect

The world is slowly learning that because two men think differently neither need be wicked. Selected from Apples Of Gold.

Calendar Of Events

The Camp Meeting of the Church of God began Wednesday, August 23, and will continue through August 27 at the Camp Grounds on Old 67 highway, east.

Services are held each day and night. Evangelist O. Watlington, Speaker; Elder Floyd R. Hendrix, Chairman.

Lawn Party

Misses Jessie and Alice Witherspoon and Mrs. Paralee Deloney were co-hostesses at a lawn party on August 16, at the home of Glennie Gamble on North Walnut street.

Out-of-town guests attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Booker T. Gamble of Tulsa, California, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lee Gamble of Los Angeles, Andrew Gamble of Los Angeles, Filmore McFadden of Richmond. Local guests attending were: Joseph Witherspoon and grandson, Miss Stephany Murry, Robert Gamble, Mrs. Reva Gamble, Mrs. Emma Williams, Mrs. Nathaniel Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Edwards, Raymond Williamson and Mrs. Gurtha Williamson.

Homecoming Service Held

Homecoming services were held at the Providence Baptist Church Route 3, Emmet, on Sunday August 20.

Approximately 400 persons from all over the United States were in attendance. Three sermons were preached. Dinner was served. Brother Percy Jones, Chairman of Committee.

Harris-Ross Engagement Announced

Jack Harris announces the engagement of his daughter, Armenda to Sidney Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Ross all of Hope.

The bride-elect is a 1968 graduate of Yerber High School. The bridegroom is a 1967 graduate of Yerber and is presently employed by Bruner-Ivory Handle Company.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mrs. Ella Harris and granddaughter of Mrs. Dankey Cooper; Mrs. Katie Ross is grandmother of the groom.

The wedding will be an event of September 1, 1972, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Harris, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, at 8:00 p.m.

Coming And Going

Mrs. Dorothy Butler and daughter, Shelia Jean, have returned to their home in Los Angeles, after spending six weeks with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Willie Mae Davenport and Mrs. Lee Anna Davenport.

Obituary

Mrs. Martha Hicks Wilson, a native of Union County, Arkansas, a longtime resident of Nevada and Hempstead County, passed away in a local Nursing Home August 23, 1972, following a lengthy illness.

She was a member of the Sweet Home Missionary Baptist Church, Emmet.

She is survived by four children: Mrs. Frankie Lee Hamilton of Little Rock, Wiley Wilson of Los Angeles, Isaac

Wilson of Emmet, and Richard J. Wilson, Jr., of Hope; fifteen grandchildren, seven great grandchildren; one brother, Cornelius Hicks of Norphlet, Arkansas, numerous nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at the Loneoke Baptist Church, Hope, on Saturday, August 26, at 2:00 p.m. with burial in Snell Cemetery, Emmet, under the direction of Hicks Funeral Home, Inc.

Personal Mention

Friends of R.J. Hicks, Sr., will regret to know that he is a patient at the BA Hospital, Little Rock. He is in Room 8, South.

MAN IS KILLED

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP) — State Police said that Hugh Brooks, 77, of Ben Lomond (Sevier County) was killed Wednesday when his pickup truck collided with a log truck five miles north of here on U. S. 71.

Police said Brooks' vehicle collided with the truck driven by Dwight Malcom of Whelen Springs. Malcom was not injured.

— Most acids are characterized by sour taste.

Kiwanis Club plans its pancake supper

The Hope Bobcats meet Ashdown at 8 p.m. on Friday, September 1st, at Hammons Stadium in the 1972 season's first football game.

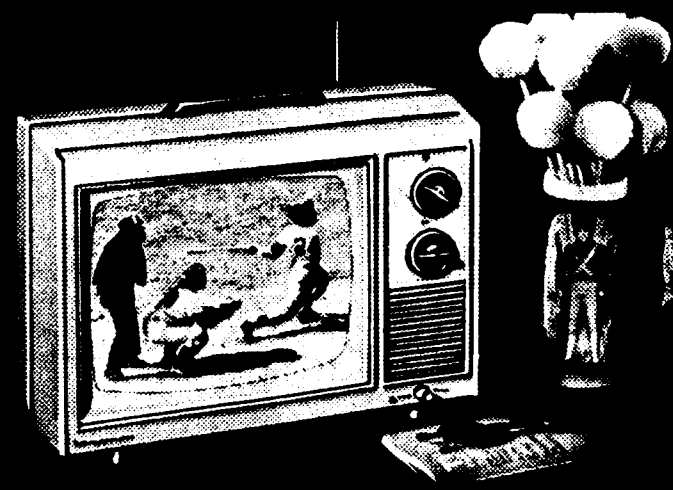

Beginning at 5 p.m. that day the Hope Kiwanis Club will be serving pancakes, syrup, sausage and a drink in the High School Cafeteria for $1.25 per person. Tickets for the supper are now available from any member of the Kiwanis Club.

The Kiwanis Pancake Supper is an annual money-raising project of the local club. All of the profits of the Pancake Supper are used in the local community for the continuing programs of Kiwanis Youth Activities.

The local Kiwanis Club promotes only two revenue producing projects each year, the Annual Variety Show in the spring and the Pancake Supper in the fall. From the date of the first show in 1943 Kiwanis has earned and spent from the two projects in excess of $45,000.

"Members of the Kiwanis Club are sincerely grateful for the continuing support of their projects by the community. Were it not for the tickets bought for our Pancake Suppers our youth work would suffer tremendously," said Clifford Franks, club treasurer.

9:50 Lucille Rivers 3	Expert South was in bad humor. He had been holding bad cards and his palooka opponents were all winning from him in the rubber bridge game.
10:00 Split Second 3	His three-club call can only be ascribed to that bad humor which was not improved any when West let out a resounding double but when the smoke had cleared away South was positively beaming while East and West were engaged in one of those verbal fights that seem to enliven rubber bridge games.
Sale Of The Century 4-6	Diamonds were continued with South ruffing the third lead. He finessed dummy's queen of hearts and ruffed the last diamond while East jettisoned a heart. Next came a heart to the ace and a ruff of a heart with East disposing of the deuce of spades.
Family Affair 11-12	East had had two chances to use his 10 of clubs but had held it back.
10:30 Bewitched 3-7	Now South led a low spade and West did his bit to help South along. Instead of ducking he played his ace and led the suit back.
Hollywood Squares 4-6	South cashed the king and queen of spades and led a heart from dummy. East had a last chance to beat the contract but he still refused to put his 10 of clubs to work. He ruffed low. South overruffed with the eight and West was forced to win the trick and lead to South's trump tenace.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Wednesday that Army Engineers had not kept their part of the bargain and that he would use all his influence to prevent them from beginning new construction on the Cache River-Bayou DeView drainage project until mitigation land is set aside.

Bumpers told a news conference that engineers were supposed to provide the mitigation land and that he did not see how there could be a misunderstanding on that. The lands are to compensate for the ecological loss caused by the work.

The mitigation lands have not been provided for and engineers already have begun work on the first 6.7-mile stage of construction on the project, which includes ditching and dredging of the Cache.

Bumpers said that "to rush into construction" without first assuring the acquisition of the mitigation acres represented a lack of understanding by the engineers.

The governor had asked engineers to temporarily halt the project until an environmental lawsuit on the matter was settled and there were assurances that the 30,000 acres would be purchased by the federal government. He said construction was proceeding 24 hours a day and that the environmental damage of the first stage already was an accomplished fact.

Bumpers endorsed a plan proposed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., that the federal government, in addition to the already proposed purchase of 30,000 acres, obtain perpetual easement to at least 40,000 more acres of mitigation land.

The proposed purchase is under study by the federal Office of Management and Budget. The governor's office released a letter Wednesday from McClellan to the OMB urging the agency to "clear" the report as soon as possible so Congress can act on purchase authorization by September.

"Past experience has shown that unless mitigation measures are begun promptly, irreplaceable woodlands are lost," McClellan wrote.

The senator also proposed that the plan be modified to add the 40,000 acres under perpetual easement.

Bumpers said he did not know what legal alternatives were open to him to prevent any construction beyond the first stage in the event mitigation land is not acquired. He rejected suggestions that he call out the National Guard to halt the work.

The channelization project includes straightening the river to improve drainage in Northeast Arkansas. The first stage of the 252-mile project was begun at its confluence with the White River near Clarendon.

In a letter to Bumpers, Lt. Gen. F. J. Clarke, chief of engineers, declined to suspend the first-stage work. Clarke cited the costs involved in halting the work and a ruling by U. S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henry that the first stage would not "significantly" harm wildlife. He also said that halting the work would cause another year of "needless exposure" to flooding in the basin.

Clarke said that should the proposed mitigation plan not be authorized by Congress, "we will then review the project for the purpose of determining if any other alternatives might be feasible and appropriate for further consideration."

Bumpers said Wednesday in a letter to Clarke that he had received an erroneous impression from their meeting earlier this month in Washington that the engineers chief was "completely sympathetic to the views of the many Arkansans who wish to preserve as much of the state's natural habitat as possible."

Newsman's contempt conviction is overturned

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court here Tuesday overturned the contempt conviction of two Baton Rouge, La., newsmen who defied a judge's order and reported testimony in a civil rights worker's hearing.

The newsmen, Larry Dickinson and Gibbs Adams, published detailed reports of testimony in a hearing for VISTA workers Frank Stewart, who was active in civil rights work in Baton Rouge.

The case in U.S. District Court involved charges of assassination and political intrigue against Stewart. In a hearing, Judge E. Gordon West ordered "that no, no report of the testimony taken in this case ... shall be made in any newspaper or by radio or television, or any other news media." He issued the order, he said, to prevent news accounts which might have been prejudicial to subsequent court action.

The two newsmen admitted knowing their actions violated the order when they wrote articles for the Morning Advocate and State Times. The district court found the newsmen guilty of criminal contempt and sentenced them to pay a fine of $300 each.

The 5th U. S. Circuit court of Appeals Tuesday found the conviction "constitutionally infirm."

In an opinion written for the three-judge panel, Chief Judge John R. Brown said, "No decision, opinion, report or other authoritative proposal has ever sanctioned by holding, hint, dictum, recommendation or otherwise any judicial prohibition of the right of the press to publish accurately reports of proceedings which transpire in open court."

Brown said, "We have grave reservations" that such an order as West gave could be made without serious inroads into the First Amendment to the Constitution, which guarantees freedom of the press.

"Censorship in any form—judicial censorship included—is simply incompatible with the dictates of the constitution and the concept of a free press," Brown said.

A team of 3,600 horses pulling for you.

The diesel-electric locomotive. Maybe it's not as dramatic as the old steam engine. But it's safer, simpler and more versatile than its predecessor.

The diesel-electric modernized the rail industry. Essentially, it's a mobile electric generating plant. Electric motors on the axles give tremendous pulling power and make the modern diesel the workhorse of today's railroads.

The crews of today's locomotives aren't faced with nearly as many problems as they were when steam was king. There's no coal to shovel, no fire to stoke and no heavy handles to pull. And the crew today benefits from numerous advancements that make locomotive operations safer and more efficient.

Our locomotives are just one way we're making progress in the rail industry. Because we believe that the better we get, the better we can serve you and all of Arkansas.

The Railroads of Arkansas are pulling for you.

Antismog equipment is ordered in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nearly all pre-1971 cars in California are being placed under strict smog control laws despite predictions that many will suffer harmful overheating problems.

The state Air Resources Board voted Wednesday to require additional antismog equipment on 1966-1970 model cars within two years although its engineering staff warned of overheating, possible valve damage and poorer gas mileage.

Board members noted that the devices would reduce oxides of nitrogen 40 to 50 percent and said motorists would have to put up with overheating as part of the cost of fighting smog.

The newly required equipment must be installed before vehicles may be registered for 1974. State law limits the cost, including installation, to $35.

California earlier thought it was equipping post-1965 cars with strict smog controls when it required that they be equipped with devices to limit emissions of hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide — two of the three major components of smog.

That effort backfired, however, when the antismog adjustments limiting those two components caused the third component, oxides of nitrogen — to soar.

The result of the 1966 controls was a severe smog crisis in Southern California even though hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide levels dropped sharply.

Controversial plan for busing in court

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A controversial busing plan designed to desegregate public schools in Detroit and 52 suburban school districts went before the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals today.

The plan requires busing across school district lines and has drawn sharp criticism from education officials and Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, who was to represent the state in court today.

Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which brought the suit that led to the plan, the Detroit Board of Education, the Justice Department and the suburban school districts involved, also were to argue their cases.

U.S. District Court Judge Stephen J. Roth of Flint, Mich.,

laid the groundwork for the plan in September 1971 when he ruled that the Detroit school system was guilty of de jure segregation.

A series of hearings followed, and last June 14 Roth issued a plan involving 780,000 students.

Saying full desegregation could not be achieved before September 1973, he then filed a temporary plan which required the purchase of 295 buses for transporting about 40,000 students this fall.

The purchase order was stayed by the appellate court July 20, three hours before the deadline Roth had set for buying the buses.

The court said the stay would remain in effect pending hearing of a full appeal of the desegregation plan.

People in the News

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President and Mrs. Nixon will throw a party for 250 celebrities of the entertainment world Sunday afternoon in San Clemente, Calif.

The poolside party at the Western White House will be the main weekend event for Nixon, who was renominated for another term at the Republican National Convention here.

Among the guests expected at the party are John Wayne and Art Linkletter, who participated in convention activities here.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Vince Edwards' wife Linda has filed suit to end their five-year marriage. But she said she won't miss the chance to be at her husband's side when they meet President Nixon at the Western White House in San Clemente next Sunday.

"Linda said Vince was going to be her first date after the suit was filed," a spokesman for the couple said Wednesday. Edwards, best known for his long-running role as TV's "Dr. Ben Casey," and actress Linda Foster were married on Aug. 6, 1967. They have two daughters, Angela, 4, and Nicole, 2½.

Their spokesman said the Edwards are among several celebrities invited to visit the President at his seas de retreat.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Rudy Vallee, with a crowd of elderly movie fans gathered at Hollywood Memorial Park, helped to mark the 46th anniversary of the death of silent screen star Rudolph Valentino. Vallee, a friend of Valen-tino's, delivered a brief eulogy, saying, "Of all the stars in the world, none had the popularity of Valentino. His personality created more excitement than anyone else in entertainment history."

When Valentino died in 1926, more than 500,000 fans of the great screen lover filed past his casket in New York City.

The group at Wednesday's services was predominantly elderly women. Onetime silent screen star Mary MacLaren, who appeared in films with Valentino, participated in the ceremony.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — While Mickey Rooney told a judge he wants "with all my heart" to have custody of his four children by his fifth marriage, his third wife was filing a petition claiming unpaid alimony from the actor.

Rooney told Superior Court Judge Mario Clinco on Wednesday that he had been living "a Christian life" with his seventh wife in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he wants to take the children.

They are now living with their maternal grandmother in Rolling Hills, Calif. She opposes the move. The children's mother, Barbara Thompson, was shot to death in 1966 while estranged from Rooney.

In another courtroom, Elaine Menkin Davis Rooney claimed in a petition she is owed $14,350 in unpaid alimony. They were married from 1952 to 1960 and she said Rooney has failed on many occasions to pay her $500 monthly alimony.

Boyleing it down

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the most meticulous researchers in literature is Irving Wallace, the best-selling author who has written millions of words that earned him millions of dollars on a battered $35 typewriter his parents gave him in his youth.

Wallace developed his passion for research as a nonfiction writer, but also kept it up when he turned to fiction. He studied source material over a 10-year-period before completing his latest success, "The Word," a religious novel.

Here are a few tidbits of unusual Biblical lore he says he turned up in his quest for facts: About 1½ billion Bibles have been sold since Gutenberg printed the first one.

There is not a single date in the entire Bible.

The New Testament does not mention that Jesus was a carpenter, that he was executed on Mt. Calvary, that nails were driven into his hands or feet on the cross, or that such a place as Nazareth existed.

The cross was not a symbol of Christianity until 600 years after Christ's death.

Church bells were not used until after the eighth century. Since Christianity was illegal almost everywhere for five centuries, the faithful were told of meetings by word of mouth. Later they were summoned by trumpet.

The New Testament does not mention the Three Wise Men as having ridden camels. According to some Latin-American churches, they rode a donkey, elephant and camel.

How much did Judas get the betraying Jesus? The 30 pieces of silver he received were called shekels, and 30 of them would be worth about $14 in our money.

Standard Bibles say Christ died in his early 30's. But a lost Gospel called the Acts of Pilate, and also the Gospel of Nicodemus, states that Jesus died between the ages of 41 and 54.

Jesus was reported to have come back to earth 11 times in the month and a third following his death.

The vocabulary of the Bible is not large. There are only 5,642 different words in the Old Testament, only 1,400 in the New Testament.

Pontius Pilate is worshipped by the Coptic Church of Ethiopia, a 10-million-member Christian sect. They believe that Pilate repented his sin of having sentenced Jesus to death and later became a convert.

Did his Biblical researches convert novelist Wallace, who was a professed atheist when he began them?

"No, but writing the book made me an agnostic," the author says. "My feelings at this point are best expressed in Ernest Renan's agnostic prayer: 'O Lord, if there is a Lord, save my soul, if I have a soul.'"

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — Regardless of who wins the presidency, unemployment must be tackled all over again in an attempt to separate fantasy from reality.

Still unanswered, for example, are these basic questions:

—Is it really possible, considering politics, to maintain full employment and a stable economy?

—What is full employment—four per cent unemployed, as we now claim, or nearer three per cent, as some officials claimed during the Johnson administration?

—Who is to be regarded as unemployed?

The federal government says the jobless are all who attempted to find jobs during the month previous to its survey, or who were waiting to report for work or temporarily laid off.

But there is disagreement. Consider these two viewpoints, each widely held, about the same situation.

First, two New York professors, William Abraham and A.J. Jaffe, claim the jobless figures released each month by the government fail to include all those who are really seeking jobs. The federal statistics, they say, fail to count the "inactive unemployed" or "discouraged worker,"—eligible for work, but too discouraged by earlier failures to look for work.

The professors say unemployment in the United States is more than a full percentage point higher than the official figure—recently about 5.5 per cent of the labor force.

Now consider the view of the National Federation of Independent Business, which claims an active membership of more than 300,000 small- and medium-size businessmen.

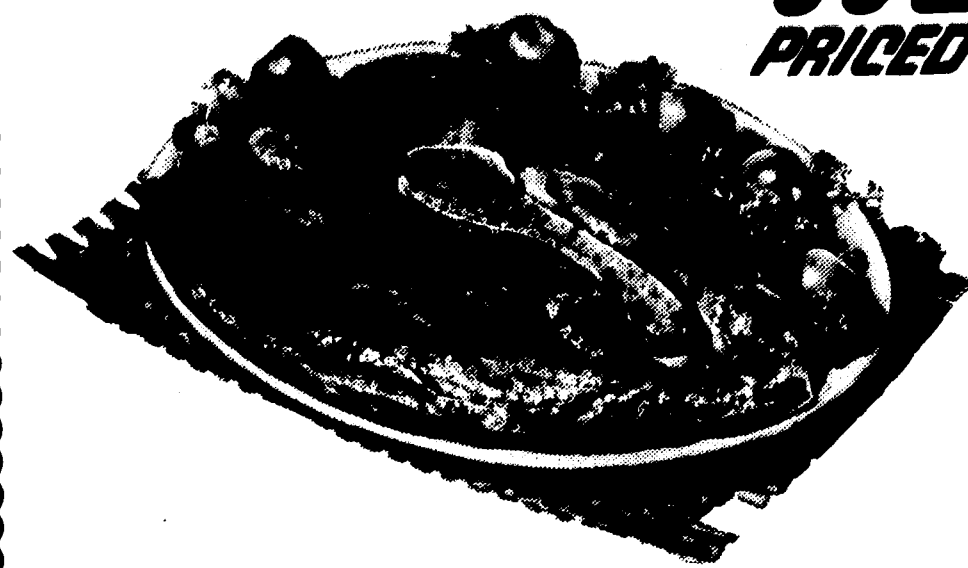

The federation claims that the widely quoted jobless figures overstate the problem.

It quotes the owner of a Mississippi cleaning plant as writing:

"As the potential employer of as many as 20 people can you see how I feel when I go for months without one single application for work?"

"I can call the State Employment Office and the odds are about 10 to 1 that they will not send anyone to apply for the job. Most people who can even be contacted ... will tell us they have no experience but will not take the job as it might interfere with their welfare..."

And it quotes an Ohio business owner as saying, "The percentage of unemployment published is a real joke. We have no luck finding dependable chauffeurs at $3.75 an hour, guaranteed 40 hours and 52 weeks of work."
